

The Executive and Physician Leadership team brings knowledge of national and regional healthcare markets and well-developed relationships and networks throughout the U.S. This enables us to identify, engage with and deliver the most talented leaders for your organization. We find leaders who are the right fit for your culture and ready to take on today's ever-changing healthcare landscape. AMN supports leaders with the latest thought leadership, technology solutions from credentialing to predictive analytics, and access to promising talent and resources.

Why Organizations seek AMN:

A National Presence – Our search team brings knowledge of national and regional healthcare markets, in addition to well-developed relationships and networks throughout the U.S., enabling us to identify and engage the most talented leaders for your organization.

Strong Business Ethics – We build and maintain our client and candidate relationships within a framework of trust, confidentiality, and mutual respect. Our collective culture is to serve clients and senior leaders as “trusted advisors.”

Outstanding Knowledge and Expertise – Our consultants are experts in healthcare, and experts in executive search. They remain highly involved in the execution of every search they manage.

Exceptional Services, Continuously Refined – Through an objective third-party consultant, we survey our clients after every search in an effort to maintain the very highest standards and continually improve our processes.

AMN Differentiators:

Individually Tailored and Comprehensive Search Services – We don't subscribe to the "one-size-fits-all" approach to executive search. Rather, we seek to fully understand your environment and current challenges.

An Exclusive Focus on Healthcare Search – Given the complexity of the healthcare field, we concentrate exclusively on healthcare executive search.

Extensive Professional Network – The leadership solutions team has deep and personal relationships with hundreds of the most qualified and recognized executive and physician leaders across the country.

Our Market Position – Our size, strength, and scale enable us to bring the infrastructure required for top-quality executive search.

Our Excellent Reputation – We are committed to treating all candidates and prospective candidates with respect, professionalism, and consideration.

On-boarding for Placed Candidates – After a search is completed, we remain in contact with the selected candidate and institution to ensure a smooth transition to success.
